No headquarter services provided. Pilots are responsible for waypoint installation on their instruments, and for mailing their back-up igc-file to the organizer in case of problems with their tracks.

The location will be adapted to the weather. If possible, we will stay on the north side of the Alps because of the traffic.
Weather information from Tuesday evening, final decision on the location no later than Wednesday evening.

If possible we will be in the Interlaken area, take off at Grindelwald:

Independent journey from Interlaken to Grindelwald by public transport (we will make a reservation for all pilots from Interlaken Ost (big parking) to Grindelwald).

Meeting point / briefing Grindelwald valley station (you get the tickets)

Briefing on take off First

Landing on the Höhmatte Interlaken (5 minutes to walk from the train station/parking).

Waypoint files must be uploaded to the GPS by the pilot.

Each pilot receives a tracker, which he must operate himself and install appropriately.

The evaluation of flights will be done using GPS tracks from the Livetrackers. Each pilot is responsible for the backup and must be able to send a valid igc to the organiser.
